

Name:

WritingWorkbooks.com

Bears

D'Nealian Cursive

1. There are eight species of bears.
2. They range in size from the sun bear to the huge polar and brown bears.
3. The brown bear is the most widespread one.
4. It lives in North America, Europe and Asia.
5. In North America, the brown bear is known as the grizzly bear.
6. Brown bears have a varied diet.
7. They eat grasses, roots and berries.
8. They also eat insects, fish and other animals.
9. The large polar bears live in the Arctic.
10. Polar bears have soft white fur to keep them warm in their icy climates.

There are eight species of bears.

There are eight species of bears.

There are eight species of bears.

They range in size from the sun bear
to the huge polar and brown bears.

They range in size from the sun bear
to the huge polar and brown bears.

The brown bear is the
most widespread one.

The brown bear is the
most widespread one.

It lives in North America,
Europe and Asia.

It lives in North America,
Europe and Asia.

In North America, the brown
bear is known as the grizzly bear.

In North America, the brown
bear is known as the grizzly bear.

Brown bears have a varied diet.

Brown bears have a varied diet.

Brown bears have a varied diet.

They eat grasses, roots and berries.

They eat grasses, roots and berries.

They eat grasses, roots and berries.

They also eat insects,
fish and other animals.

They also eat insects,
fish and other animals.

The large polar bears live in the Arctic.

The large polar bears live in the Arctic.

The large polar bears live in the Arctic.

Polar bears have soft white fur to
keep them warm in their icy climates.

Polar bears have soft white fur to
keep them warm in their icy climates.

